3. He gives us an Enumeration of fuch Plants as may be comprehended under the general Name of Aron, the Characteristick whereof he makes to be a Bacciferous Plant, having a monopetalous cucullate Flower: whereof there are Four forts called by the Names of Aron, Arifarum, Dracontium and Colocafia. Arifarum differs from Arum in being less and slenderer in all its parts. Colocaha from both, in having smooth, umbilicate Leaves. without any Spots; the Foot stalk inserted not in the end, but in the middle of the Leaf, after the manner of the Cotolydonei; Flowers sometimes single, sometimes more than one proceeding out of the same folliculate Foot-stalk; a Style thicker and shorter than Aron, and terminating in a flender Point. Dracontium differs from Arum and the rest, in having a Leaf deeply laciniated or divided into many Jaggs.
